

MBA GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

The MBA is designed for those qualified students, regardless of area of undergraduate preparation, who have the motivation to pursue graduate-level work in business administration. The required courses are limited to the traditional "foundation" and "core" areas in order to permit students the widest possible elective choice to tailor the program to individual needs. This approach is consistent with the previously stated educational objectives. The availability of a representative selection of courses in related areas of computer science, economics, social science and humanities extends the opportunities for matching the curriculum with individual background and interests. Students with an undergraduate major other than business or economics will be required to take foundation courses.

UNIT REQUIREMENTS

The MBA requirements include 21 units of core courses, 12 units of concentration courses, 3 units from a research project or graduate internship, and up to 21 units of foundation subjects, making a total of up to 54 units for those students with Bachelor's degrees in areas other than business or economics. Those with business or economics degrees will require a minimum of 36 units. Appropriate adjustments, based on individual background, may lead to somewhat different requirements.

FOUNDATION COURSES

Students with Bachelor's degrees in areas other than business or economics may be required to complete a foundation program in the following areas: accounting, economics, statistics, finance, management, marketing, or computer science. Students, who have not already completed this foundation program before coming to Lincoln are required to do so during the first 21 units of credit earned at the undergraduate and/or foundation graduate level (courses with 300s numbers) with a GPA 2.7 or better. This program will be individually determined based on initial assessment by the Dean or an Academic Adviser.
